

SHORT CV

Francesco Tessarolo he is a researcher at the division for Healthcare Innovation and Research of the Bruno Kessler Foundation in Trento and an research fellow at the Department of Industrial Engineering of the Trento University. Since 2004 he is also research board member of the Section of Electron Microscopy at the Provincial Health Trust for the development of applied biomedical projects.

He has authored more than 60 papers on sterilization and disinfection, safety and efficacy of medical devices and clinical protocols, health technology assessment, interactions between implantable devices and patient's tissue.